

ALL ABOARD FOR HOMES TOUR

This year's 2011 Fall for White Point Home Tour, Art Auction and Reception held Sept. 25 by the Palos Verdes Peninsula Land Conservancy was the most successful to date. With support from sponsors including ConocoPhillips, SA Recycling, Coastal San Pedro Neighborhood Council, Malaga and Opus banks, the event raised more than $30,000.

Guests discovered unique structures, such as the Wilbur Wood House with a 180-degree harbor view that was moved by horse cart to its current location and a beach cottage transformed by works of neon art.

Artist Candice Gawne, who is known for her unique style of glass and neon artwork, opened her home for the tour.

Paul Gommi used a Vespa to get around the self-guided tour.

Fundraising Committee member Sharon Ryan is shown with early-bird raffle winner Freddie Benson. Benson won a wine and food pairing from Tapas y Vino Restaurant.
