Forrestal Reserve is one of ten open space reserves that make up the Palos Verdes Nature Preserve owned by the City of Rancho Palos Verdes and managed by the Palos Verdes Peninsula Land Conservancy. This reserve contains some of the best remaining coastal sage scrub habitat on the Peninsula with splendid spring wildflowers. The eastern portion contains a former quarry and marked trails that wind around the top of the quarry bowl. The dramatic cliffs at the end of the road are characterized by faults, folds, sedimentary bedding and igneous intrusions with many crystals and fossils, particularly fish scales, in the surface rock debris.

TRAILS

Palos Verdes Nature Preserve FORRESTAL RESERVE

Quarry Loop 1.2 miles, Easy

Start at the trailhead near the entrance on Forrestal Drive and take the Quarry Trail to the left. Follow this to the bowl formed from the old basalt quarry. This turns into the Basalt Trail for a short distance. Turn right at the Mariposa Trail and a few hundred feet further, you will find yourself at a Vista Point above the bowl. Here you can witness spectacular views from Catalina to Malibu. The trail makes a sharp turn north and crosses a small bridge over a blue line stream then wraps up with a steep descent down the Pirate Trail.

Forrestal Reserve Loop, 2.3 miles, Moderate

Start on the Purple Sage Trail off of Intrepid Drive. Continue along the fire road as it turns into the Conqueror Trail. Veer right up the switchbacks of the Dauntless Trail and ascend to the Canyon View Trail. Here you can look down into Klondike Canyon that borders the western edge of the preserve. Canyon View meets the Flying Mane Trail and continues up the switchbacks, then flattens out before running into the Mariposa Trail where you will cross a small bridge over a blue line stream. The hike wraps up with a steep descent down the Pirate Trail. Walk back up Forrestal Drive to Intrepid to complete the loop.

Fossil Hill Loop, 0.6 miles, Easy

Begin at the end of Forrestal Drive and head out on the Fossil Trail. The shale cliffs to your left and right were popular fossil-collecting destinations at one time. Fossil collection is no longer permitted as it contributes to serious erosion and removes these beautiful natural features from the preserve. Turn left at Red Tail Trail and follow it up a short slope to the Vista Point Trail. Head up to the top of Fossil Hill where rock benches provide a spot to relax and take in the view. Continue down the back side of Fossil Hill on the Vista Point Trail and follow the Exultant Trail back to Forrestal Drive.
